Back to School: Routines for Learning Literacy and Easing Anxiety

- Help your patrons ease the back-to-school transition with engaging children's books, family-friendly music, and relaxing movies. This collection offers resources to support learning, establishing routines, and set up families for a successful school year.
- Access images and the collection in our Resource Center.

Weeknight Meal Plans and Lunch Prep

Back to school means busy weeknights! Provide your patrons with easy meal ideas and fun lunches to pack for school or work. Pair this with a cooking program or cookbook book club!

Lit for Learning | Making Friends

Making friends is fantastic with Scholastic! Share this collection with your young readers as they get ready to go back to school. The collection features a variety of Scholastic content about friendship and making friends.

Routine Reset

Have a local organizing guru visit your library for a program supplying tips on how to help reset your routine. Supply this collection of helpful books for patrons to read.

eBooks and Audiobooks

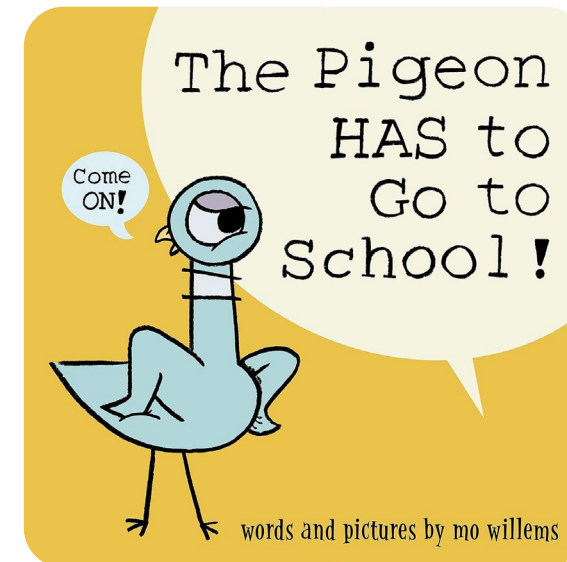

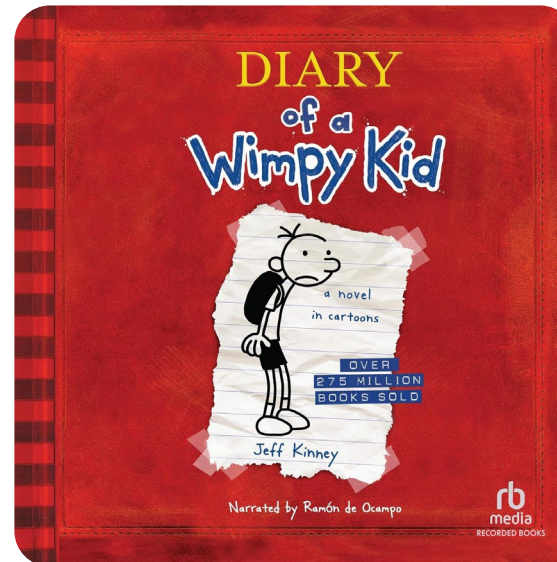

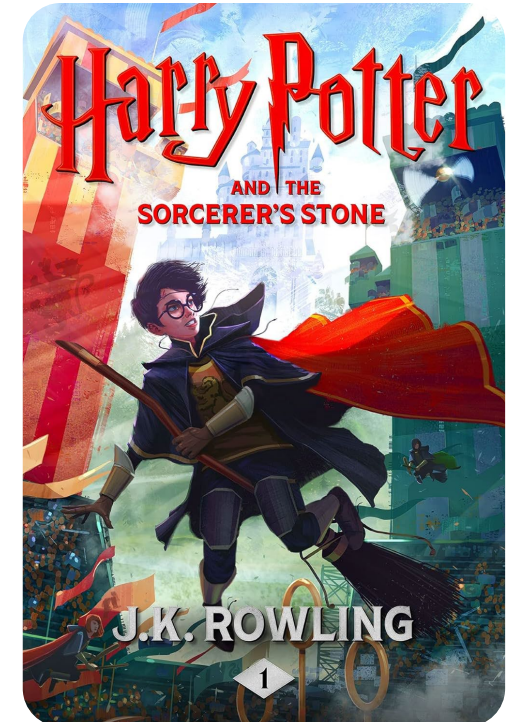

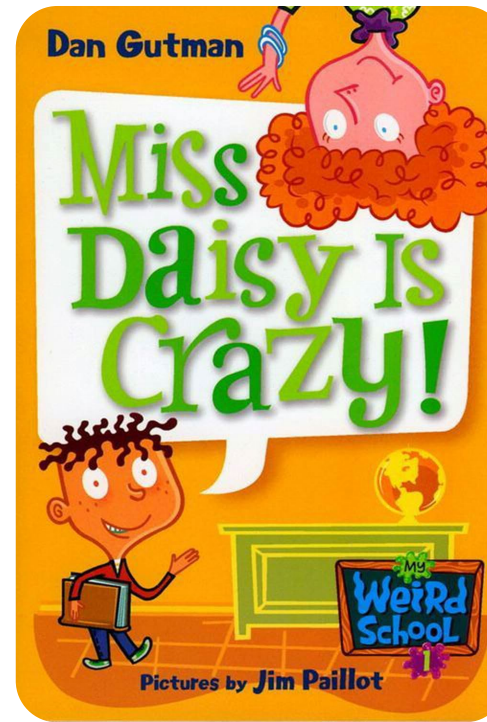

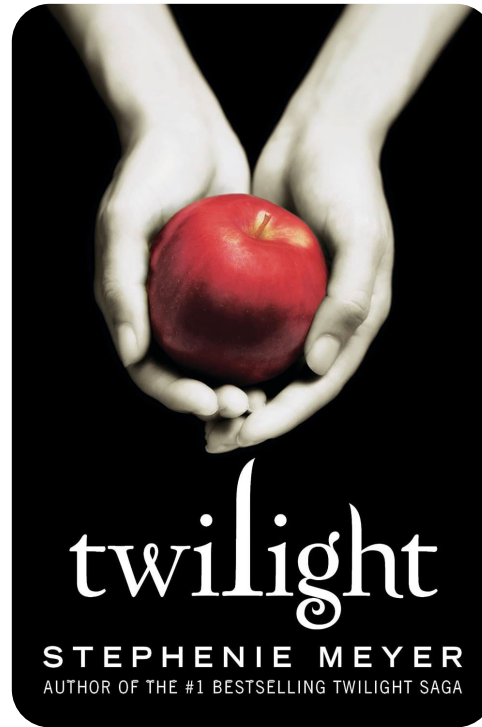

Twilight A go-to pick for teen readers. Newly added on Hoopla!

Miss Daisy Is Crazy My Weird School series. Silly, easy chapter book for early elementary.

Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone A back-to-school classic for middle grade and up. For the entire month of September, it will be a Bonus Borrow!

Diary of a Wimpy Kid Great for listening at bedtime. Look for the newest title Fight or Flight on October 20.

The Pigeon HAS to Go to School! Perfect for a first-day-of-school storytime.

SPLISH, SPLASH, SPLISH!

The Little Dumpling happily paddled through the salty broth, over the onions, around the carrots, and through the leafy dill. "Stop making waves," her sister complained.

PAT, PAT, PAT...

The Little Dumpling smiled and listened to the sound of the dumpling chef PATTING the dough.
